LOCATED IN AND ADJOINING THE TOWN OF WARRENTON, N. C.

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and, during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.

The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.

The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. E. Parham, is already well known.

The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.

There is now a sufficiency of Buildings and other Conveniences attached to this Real Estate, to conduct a large and flourishing school. The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. This, with all or a part of the furniture, &c., belonging to the same, can be purchased with the land and buildings. This property will be offered privately for sale until Wednesday the 3rd day October next, and, if not then sold, will be on that day sold, at public auction, to the highest bidder.

The Committee are fully authorized to sell, and would say that a rare chance is offered to any party wishing to purchase such property, as time sufficient, if required, will be given. Possession given immediately.

Any person or party wishing to examine the property will be shown it by E. E Parham, the present occupant, or by any one or more of the Committee.

The Approaching Philadelphia Convention.

The Philadelphia Convention, even in advance of its assembling, has been productive of good results. It has compelled the probable withdrawal from the Cabinet of a set of men, who have been clogs in the way of reconciliation, and who, at no time harmonizing with the generous and magnanimous views of the President, have remained near him only to weaken or frustrate, if possible, his beneficent policy. Motives of delicacy and a common sense of honor and self-respect, one would have supposed, would long since have prompted their retirement. In the earlier and better days of the Republic such would have been the case; but in these degenerate days, which have given birth to the fell spirit of Radicalism, its votaries are not influenced by such considerations. Political insincerity, and political, as well as personal, jesuitism, appear to be regarded as venial, and even commendable, characteristics and qualities.

If the contemplated Convention were to accomplish no other good, it is well that the call for it was issued. But we anticipate the happiest results from its actual deliberations, if (and we certainly have no reason to suppose otherwise) they are conducted in the same spirit that has marked the initiatory movements. The masses of the Southern people accept the assembling of this Convention as an olive-branch from the North, coming, as it does, from such sterling men and Conservatives as have attached their signatures to the call.—Hence, we do not, by any means, share in the apprehensions that seem to be entertained by some few of our Virginia cotemporaries, that the Southern representatives will be expected to merge in the Convention on the basis of test-oath representation. No where, in any of the manifestoes or public declarations that have appeared in connection with the movement, is such a conclusion warrantable, unless, perhaps, it may be violently wrenched from the letter of Mr. Seward, which we publish to-day, taken in connection with his previous communication to the Tammany Society. While we regret to say that Mr. Seward does not rise to the height of the great argument, we are far from believing that the slightest fears need be felt that the Convention will be attempted to be organized upon other principles than those contained in the call, or upon other tests than those prescribed by the Constitution, which it is the avowed purpose of the convocation to maintain and preserve, as it is.

In appointing delegates, the South does so with the explicit understanding that we hold, as a fundamental right, which we can never renounce, representation according to the Constitutional standard of election and qualification, and in repudiation of all arbitrary requisitions and proscriptive test-oaths. If, with such an understanding and declaration, our delegates are rejected (which is altogether improbable, if not impossible,) it will then be proof that they ought not to have been sent; if admitted, as we believe they most unquestionably will be, our point will be saved, if not gained.

GEN. THOMAS, with arbitrary presumption, some time since, undertook "to run the churches" in Alabama. His insolence and tyranny were summarily checked by the President. It seems, from our telegraphic advices to-day, that he is now anxious, at Brownlow's instigation, to take the Legislature of a sovereign State in hand. This is too much even for Stanton, and the rebuke which he administers to Thomas is pointed and severe. What between Brownlow and this man Thomas, our Tennessee neighbors are indeed in an evil strait. Radicalism in politics and in civil government is bad enough, but when it gets into the army as well, we may bid farewell to harmony, order and quiet.

THE MEMPHIS Avalanche says: "The best men of the Union party, men who were true to the United States Government during the late war, and whose loyalty has never been impeached, will have nothing to do with the Radicals. The leading Radicals of Tennessee are men who, in 1861, aided the "rebellion," as they now term it, and are now persecuting the men whom they induced to join the Southern army."

This is pretty nearly the state of things as it exists in North Carolina. We could easily spot a number of men of this latter class, if we felt so disposed.

OUR MISTAKE.—We beg pardon of "an Old Line Whig," of Johnston, for calling him a Holdenite. Our friend of the Wilmington Journal assures us that we are mistaken, and we make the amende honorable. His communication looked so much of a peice with other movements going on, that we thought it belonged to the same category.

"It is now said that "the straightest sect" men of North Carolina will hold a Convention about the 4th of August, and nominate candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor. The prediction is made that Mr. Settle will be put in the field for the first office. We are at a loss to know to which party "the straightest sect" belongs."

The above we clip from the Washington Chronicle, Forney's paper. The impression seems to be that the "straightest sect" will hold a Convention as above, or, at least, in some form bring out candidates. There have been, however, no primary meetings held preparatory to the Convention.

But Forney does not know, or pretends not to know, to which party "the straightest sect" belongs, although Gov. Holden, the father of the sect in this State, has recently spent ten days in Washington, frequently "conversing with members of the Cabinet, members of Congress, (Radicals, of course,) and other public men," one of whom, we suppose, included Forney.

This is an unkind cut, and turns the cold shoulder most ungraciously to Gov. Holden, who has labored assiduously, for more than six months, to convince the Northern Radicals that the "strait sect" entirely sympathised with them. Moreover, it looks very much as if Forney intended, by it, to explain to the public why Gov. Holden's appointment to San Salvador had not been confirmed. His precise political status, even Forney, with all his acuteness and similarity of prestige, does not know. How then can it be expected that the Radicals of the Senate could know?

We protest against such treatment. If any Southern man could satisfy Northern Radicals of his identity with them, surely Gov. Holden ought to have succeeded. What better proof could be given, than his advocacy of the Senate Constitutional amendment, and his urging the State Convention to adopt it even in advance of the Congress? Moreover, his course, and the course of the "strait sect" faction, had given the Northern Radicals, before, indubitable evidence, that they were heart and soul with them. Even Capt. Settle appears to be doubted, although his herculean efforts, in the first session of the Convention, to repudiate the State war debt, even before the President's views were known, were emblazoned in the newspapers at the time. This attempt to turn the cold shoulder to Capt. Settle, also, is too bad, especially when the memory of his famous Radical speech in the late session of the Convention is still fresh.

We are not disposed, before we are asked, to give the present strength and influence of the "straightest sect" faction in this State. Our opinion is, "it is growing small by degrees and beautifully less." Yet there is one fact which the Chronicle may rely upon, that, so far as Gov. Holden can commit the "straightest sect" faction to the interests and views of the Radicals in Congress, it will be done, and emphatically done, if we are to judge by the late teachings of his organ.

Mr. Tod R. Caldwell.

We received a communication to-day, from this gentleman, which professes to be a reply to a short article of ours, provoked by an article in the Standard attacking Messrs. Eaton and Perebee, because they had opposed a proposition of Mr. Caldwell, to authorize the loan of $50,000 for the Western N. C. Railroad, upon the credit of the State, for the reason that there was no quorum of the Convention on the morning of the adjournment, and on account of the anxiety of members to adjourn.

What we stated, in that article, was based upon the information we had in our possession. If our information was erroneous, we would gladly have corrected it, if Mr. C. had been disposed to act up to the promptings of a gentleman sensible of injustice done him, and given us the facts. But his true animus and character are betrayed, when he flies into a rage, and writes for publication a most abusive, billingsgate, personal attack upon the Editors of this journal. Of course, he could not expect us to publish such an article, but desired to have the benefit of our refusal. The entire attack upon the Junior, especially, is wholly uncalled for, and without the slightest provocation. The Senior shoulders the entire responsibility, both of writing the article, which has so unwittingly stirred the bad blood of Mr. Caldwell, and of rejecting his abusive, vindictive and ridiculous letter. When gentlemen desire admission into our columns, they must observe proper decorum towards the Editors and readers of the Sentinel. We have therefore complied with Mr. Caldwell's request as to the disposition of his manuscript.

DR. E. S. GAILLARD, one of the editors of the "Richmond Medical Journal," (the best Medical Periodical, says the London Lancet, published in the United States,) was awarded by committee on Prize Essays the Prize of the Georgia Medical Association, at its late meeting, for an Essay on Diptheria.

Dr. G. is said to be one of the most erudite scholars and accomplished medical gentleman in this country, and his Journal, so ably and successfully conducted, is, every day, adding fresh laurels to his justly merited reputation.

Colonel Forney is raving and raging and fuming and foaming through his papers, the Philadelphia Press and the Washington Chronicle, over the call of the Philadelphia National Convention. He is scared. He is alarmed. He is terrified. He is chock-full of trepidation and fury. We can't prescribe for him. We are no poultry-doctor.—Prentice.

The Tennessee Senate, which is doing business in the absence of a quorum of the House, on Monday, had up a resolution for the ratification of the proposed Constitutional Amendment. A proposition was made by Senator Thompson to submit the amendment to the people; but it was tabled by the Radicals with every mark of disgust.

A large crowd was attracted to Jone's Wood, New Jersey, on the 4th, to witness a man drive six trained geese, harnessed to a wash tub, across the river. A paddle was used to steer the tub and also tap the geese on the head when disposed to jump out of harness.

Public Meeting in Wake.

A numerously attended, and highly respectable, meeting of the citizens of Wake County was held in this City, on yesterday, for the purpose of taking the necessary steps to secure representation in the proposed National Union Convention at Philadelphia.

On motion of H. W. Husted, Esq., the Hon. Jno. H. Bryan was called to the chair; and on further motion of P. F. Pescud, Esq., Seaton Gales, Esq., was requested to act as Secretary.

The Hon. Kenneth Rayner, being called on, appropriately explained the object of the meeting; when a Committee of five, consisting of Hons. Kenneth Rayner, Thos. Bragg, Chas. Manly, D. M. Barringer and H. W. Husted, Esq., were appointed to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting.

The Committee, through Mr. Rayner, reported the following:

Resolved, That whilst, as Southern men, we fully appreciate our present depressed and unhappy condition, still, as prudent and practical men, we submit with due resignation to the grievances under which we labor, relying upon the efforts of conservative men in the North, upon time and a returning sense of justice to our oppressors, to secure to the people of the Southern States the Constitutional rights and privileges of which they are deprived.

Resolved, That we regard President Andrew Johnson as the representative man of the Constitutional liberties of the people of the United States,—as our chief hope for preserving what is left of the rights of the States,—as presenting, in his present position and his policy, the main practicable rallying point for the restoration of peace, concord and confidence between the North and the South; and that it is the duty of all conservative men, without regard to section or past party affiliation, to sustain and support him in his patriotic efforts to return to the old land-marks of principle, and to restore the Union, upon those limitations of power and equality among all the States, designed and provided for by the authors of the Constitution in 1789.

Resolved, That we approve of the Convention proposed to be held in Philadelphia, on the 14th. of August next, to be composed of conservative men from all the States, and that we hail the assembling of said Convention as the harbinger of better and more happy times—when the civil strife, which has so long scourged our country, shall forever give way to peace and harmony, and, under a restored Union, we shall all start anew on a career of prosperity and happiness.

Resolved, That we deem it essential that North Carolina, in common with all the other Southern States, should be represented in said Convention; that prudence and propriety require that none but earnest supporters of President Johnson and his policy should be appointed as delegates to the same.

Resolved, That the chairman of this meeting appoint twenty delegates to represent the county of Wake in the District Convention, to be held in this City, on the 25th. inst., for the purpose of selecting two delegates from this Congressional District to the Philadelphia Convention.

Resolved, That we tender our thanks and congratulations to Messrs. Seward, McCulloch and Wells, of President Johnson's Cabinet, for their support of President Johnson, and their maintenance of the constitutional rights of the States and the people, and that we regard them as entitled to the thanks and admiration of all conservative Union men, for their independence and devotion to principle.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the delegates appointed from the respective Congressional Districts, that they meet in Raleigh on the 10th of August next, a majority of whom shall be authorized to appoint four delegates from the State at large, as delegates to said Convention in Philadelphia.

Which were unanimously adopted; and the following gentlemen were appointed, by the Chairman, as delegates to the District Convention, viz:

| | |
|---|---|
| Hon. Thos. Bragg, | Hon. Charles Manly. |
| Hon. Kenneth Rayner, | Jno. C. Palmer, |
| Jas. Litchford, Sr. | Pulaski Cowper, |
| Rich'd. Debnam, | Wm. Laws, |
| Peyton A. Dunn, | C. B. Harrison, |
| J. J. L. McCullers, | Nath'l. G. Rand, |
| J. J. Young, | Hinton Hudson, |
| T. J. Utley, | Dr. Thos. Hicks, |
| S. W. Williams, | J. M. Crenshaw, |
| Rufus Jones, | W. H. Pope. |

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.

JNO. H. BRYAN, Cha'n.
SEATON GALES, Sec'y.

In connection with the Governorship the names of Gen. Matt. W. Ransom, of Northampton, and of Geo. W. Logan, of Rutherford, have been mentioned. Of Mr. Logan it is sufficient to say that he is a man of but ordinary capacity, of much demagogueism, and a follower of W. W. Holden, to inform our readers, that under no circumstances could we support him. Against Gen. Ransom we have not a word to utter—as a gentleman we respect him—as a man of rich mental endowments we admire him, and as a gallant soldier we love him. It would afford us pleasure to assist in his promotion to any position in the gift of the people of North Carolina, but we should regard an effort in such a direction now as premature and unfortunate. There can be but two parties in North Carolina now, the enemies and the supporters of the President. Let not the latter bring defeat by neglecting any measure calculated to promote success. —Wilson Carolinian.

LITTLE ROCK has always been famous for its beautiful women and elegant society. Lately, it has won another crown of beauty; one even brighter and more lasting than any she has yet worn. We have had the pleasure of perusing a letter from a young gentleman of that Capital to his father, of this city, and are permitted to make the following extract from it: "Last night I attended a concert and tableaux, given by the ladies of this place, for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the Confederate dead.—The affair was as successful as it was delightful and interesting in every respect. One of the gems of the evening was a tableau styled "Support of the South during the war." It represented almost every conceivable character.—Here was a young lady at the wash-tub; there was another ironing; here another mending clothes; then another darning stockings; here one working up dough for bread; then another carding, and another spinning. A mother sits looking at her son's old uniform, trying to mend it up for him; he being at home on furlough, but preparing to return to his command. A little sister is grinding some parched rye, for coffee; and the old grandmother is in the corner, in deep, troubled thought. The soldier boy was engaged in brushing up an old '69 musket. All the actors in this were dressed in common homespun; and it so reminded me of what we had so often actually witnessed down in Dixie."—Memphis Avalanche.

North Carolina.

It is with peculiar vexation, that we read the records of business difficulty and failure in our Northern States, while magnificent regions for settlement and cultivation lie open almost at our doors. The great political and military struggle through which the Nation has passed, achieved other ends than those that were immediately present to the eyes of the Government and people of the American Union. In a practical and business point of view, it made the residents of different sections of this Country better acquainted, not only with each other as classes of men, but with the resources and capacities of the different States. The astonishment and delight of the Northern born volunteers as they passed through the beautiful fields of Maryland, and the Shenandoah Valley, in Virginia, not merely served to soften the asperities of war, with kindlier pictures of some later day when they might come to seek homes in a region so enchanting, but actually inspired many a useful enterprise, that has since been successfully carried out. Residents, South of Mason and Dixon's line, beholding the admiration awakened by the aspect and other natural advantages of the country they inhabited, or impelled by the hard necessities of warfare, went to work to seek out and develop the wealth that Providence had placed at their disposal. The result has been a singular revival of commercial, as well as social interest, in every part of our splendid National domain, and where homes and comfort for all have not been secured or, at least, placed within reach, it is because carelessness, indolence, ignorance or unfriendly teachings prevent. With proper legislation at the centre of affairs; intelligent inquiry and a persistent effort on the part of the press to make known the good tidings, there would, we feel confident, be no lack of employment and no dearth of happiness for every man, woman and child, that the Republic can possibly receive by birth or immigration for generations to come.

We have felt it to be a conscientious duty from time to time, to mention the facilities which different States of the Union hold out to those who are seeking new fields of enterprise since the war; we have endeavored to call particular attention of the South, believing that section to have the greatest present need of living help, and to offer the best opportunities to those who are wise enough to appreciate them. Casting our eyes upon them again, we are particularly struck by the geographical situation and the abundant agricultural promise of North Carolina. In a very recent number of the Raleigh Sentinel, we find published in full the correspondence between His Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina, and the President of the American Aid and Homestead Company, in this city, who had written for practical information.

Without going into all those particulars which are best discovered at full length in a gazetteer or geographical treatise, we may mention the main features of the Governor's reply. The State lies about half way between New York, and the Gulf of Mexico, extending 500 miles inland, and possessing an area about equal to our own State. It is crossed by several ranges of mountains, some attaining an elevation of 7,000 feet; has seven large rivers which, with their tributaries, water a beautiful interior hilly and rolling region, and furnish 900 miles of internal navigation, and enjoys a great variety of climate, being in some places as mild as the Gulf States, and in the mountainous regions as cool as New York. The soil is various and generally prolific, producing all the plants, fruits, grains, and esculent roots known to both sections of the Union. "Wheat and corn," says the Governor, "are produced with facility and abundance in all parts; rye, oats, and potatoes flourish in the Middle and Western regions; rice, sweet potatoes, and peas in the Eastern; tobacco in the Middle; cotton in the Southern counties of the Middle, and in the Eastern section, while turpentine and pine lumber are peculiar to the East." All sorts of grass and, consequently, of live stock, are easily and profitably raised, and in some counties the best green fodder grows wild.

The following table, compiled from the returns of the U. S. Census for 1860, will show what North Carolina produced under auspices much less favorable than our increasing population can exert upon her destinies now:

| | |
|---|---|
| Live stock | 3,826,000 head. |
| Wheat | 4,760,000 bsh'l. |
| Corn | 30,060,000 do. |
| Oats | 2,800,000 do. |
| Rye | 437,000 do. |
| Peas | 1,900.000 do. |
| Potatoes | 830,000 do. |
| Sweet potatoes | 6,140,000 do. |
| Cotton | 58,000,000 do. |
| Tobacco | 32,900,000 do. |
| Rice | 7,600,000 do. |
| Wool | 883,000 do. |
| Honey | 2,055,000 do. |
| Turpentine | 1,000,000 do. |

In addition to what is here set forth, the culture of the grape has assumed a very important status in the budget of the Sate. Besides many foreign varieties, which are cultivated with rare success, the vines indigenous to the soil and highly productive are the Scuppernong, Catawba, Lincoln, and Isabella, the three first named yielding delicious fruit and excellent wine. "All the Southern and Eastern portion of the State,' writes a valued correspondent from Newbern, to the Journal, "offers more inducement to the grape-grower, than any other part of the Country. Our grapes are natives and flourish with but little care. Blight is seldom, if ever, heard of, while land is cheap, and markets are near. The tracks contiguous to the Wilmington and Manchester, and Wilmington and Weldon Roads, vary in price from $5 to $25 per acre, and lands are procurable in any quantity. Along the rivers prices are the same, and it is only where they lie close to the main Southern road, that they rise at all. The whole Eastern region awaits but the touch of capital to spring to a wonderful activity in this elegant branch of culture." The people are willing and it only requires a judicious investment of some small portion of the capital now so abundant at the North, to create here one of the finest grape and wine producing districts in the world. But money and experience are absolutely necessary, and these, it must be confessed, are not at hand in this fine portion or the Old North State at present. The main difficulty, however, is the want of thorough knowledge of the culture required to subdue the wildness of the native vines, and tone down the flavor of the fruit and beverage they yield to those delicious shades, so highly appreciated in the wines of Italy, Hungary, Germany, and France.

In timber, the Eastern portion of the Commonwealth is, as we have said, peculiary prolific. The marshes abound in cyprus, juniper, and oak, holding out limitless wealth to the explorer. The districts known as the "swamp" lands, are usually above the level of the rivers and creeks, and when cleared and drained produce in cotton from 300 to 400 lbs. net, or, in corn from 40 to 80 bushels per acre.

The section known as Bay River may be mentioned as an example of the development the Country is attaining, even under circumstances no more favorable than those that immediately follow a long and wasting Civil war. Land, formerly sold for $1 per acre, has been cleared, and is now bringing many hundred per cent advance upon its old price, including all expenses. One well known owner, who is spoken of by his informant, last year planted nine acres of our property on Bay River in cotton, and realized more than $1,700 for his crop, which amounted to 5000 lbs., the ground having cost him originally $1 per acre. It will not be uninteresting to those who read this article, to know that so rich a region still offers numerous opportunities to the settler from the North.

Again, there is quite an opening for trade in garden vegetables. Until 1865, none were sent any considerable distance away from the point where they were raised. But within the twelvemonth they have been shipped in quantities to New York, at ample remunerative prices. Good substantial laborers of correct habits and some slight means to start with, and small farmers who could take up and work minor tracts of 50 and 100 acres, would find in this beautiful and undeveloped Southern country, the most inviting prospects of early competence. It seems passing strange that such alluring chances should have been so long overlooked.

In addition to the advantages already enumerated, the reader must not forget that the geographical position of North Carolina secures for her a climate exempt from the extremes of heat and cold. The mean temperature of the year is considerably below that of Southern New York, and excepting among her mountain peaks, the heavy snow falls and piercing winds, so familiar to us, are unknown, while it is only on the most exposed open strand of her sea coast, that such tropical heat as has been endured here within a week, is ever experienced. Moreover, North Carolina, politically and financially has come out of the war comparatively sound. The development and application of only a very slight portion of her natural wealth, would suffer to free her from debt and burthensome taxation. The must always occupy an important position in the American Union and the future seems to smile upon her as upon a favorite of coming fortune. There is a vast mass of our people, to whom the charms of home and old associations are ties stronger than any other inducements, even although their circumstances be straitened; but on the other hand, there are thousands ever glad to hear of fields for enterprise, in the walk and calling to which they have been accustomed. These are the parties whose attention we would call to the facts here given, and without going farther than the calmest consideration should lead, we may safely say that upon the Southern horizon, we see no fairer lands than those that lie behind the blue hills of North Carolina.—N. Y. Mercantile Journal.

Letter from Secretary Seward Approving the Philadelphia Convention.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 11, 1866,

Sir,—Excuse me for expressing surprise that you ask me whether I approve of the call of a proposed National Union Convention at Philadelphia.

After more than five years of dislocation by civil war, I regard a restoration of the unity of the country as its most immediate as well as its most vital interest. That restoration will be complete when loyal men are admitted as representatives of the loyal people of the eleven States so long unrepresented in Congress. Nothing but this can complete it. Nothing more remains to be done, and nothing more is necessary. Every day's delay is attended by multiplying and increasing inconveniences, embarrassments, and dangers at home and abroad.—Congress possesses the power exclusively; Congress, after a session of seven months, still omits to exercise that power. "What can be done to induce Congress to act?" This is the question of the day. Whatever is done must be in accordance with the Constitution and laws. It is in perfect accordance with the Constitution and laws that the people of the United States shall assemble, by delegates, in convention, and that when so assembled they shall address Congress by respectful petition and remonstrance, and that the people in their several States, districts, and territories, shall approve, sanction, and unite in such respectful representations to Congress. No one party could do this effectually, or even seems willing to do it alone; no local or popular organization could do it effectually. It is the interest of all parties alike; of all the States, and of all sections—a national interest; the interest of the whole people.

The Convention, indeed, may not succeed in inducing Congress to act, but if they fail, the attempt can make matters no worse. It will be a lawful and patriotic attempt made in the right direction, an effort to be remembered with pride and satisfaction whether it succeed or fail.—The original union of the States was brought about by movements of the same character.—The citizen who objects to the Convention is bound to propose a better plan of proceeding to effect the desired end. No other plan is offered, or even thought of. Those who should oppose it would seem to me to manifest, at best, unconcern, if not opposition to all reconstruction, restoration and reconciliation between the alienated masses of the American people. To admit that the Convention will fail would be to admit that the people of the United States are deficient in either the wisdom or the virtue necessary to continue the existence of the Republic. I believe no such thing. A great political writer says that government is a secular religion, and that the people of every country are divided into two classes, each maintaining a distinct political faith. The one class fear the very worst that can possibly happen, and the other hopes under every circumstances the very best that can in any event happen.

Without accepting this thing as absolutely true, I think all men do generally act from a motive to guard against public danger, or else from a positive desire to do good. Both classes may therefore favor the present attempt to restore the unity of the nation.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,
WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

THE ELECTION IN KENTUCKY takes place on the first Monday of August. A clerk of the Court of Appeals is the only State officer chosen. Judge Duvall is the Democratic and General Hobson is the Radical nominee for that office. Members of Congress are not elected until next year. There is little doubt of a Democratic victory. The office to be filled is not an important one, but the Cairo, Ill., Democrat says "a victory of the party supporting Duvall will give unity, strength, and courage to the Democratic in Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio; and his election will be a rebuke to the cowardly politicians of Kentucky who fear to openly advocate Radical doctrines, and therefore lend themselves to the Radical managers to be used for the purpose of destroying the Democratic praty."

A Louisville dispatch says a great Southern Telegraph Company is being formed there, with a capital of a million of dollars. General Kirby Smith is President, and Gen Don Carlos Buell, Vice President.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—B. P. Williamson & Co. advertise plows put up by themselves and warranted to be of superior make and pattern.

Pulliam, Jones & Co., offer a small house, in the Southeastern part of the city, for rent.

The same firm announce Spirits of Turpentine by the barrel.

Dunn, Plummer & Co., No. 4 Iron Front, Sycamore St., Petersburg, present an attractive Card to day. We cannot do better than to commend it to general attention.

The Board of Trustees, we are glad to see, have resolved to re-open Randolph Macon College on the last Thursday in September next.—They will meet on the 15th. of August to appoint the various professors. Applicants are invited.

LOST.—A Lady's black thread-lace veil, on the Tarboro road, between town and Governor Manly's plantation. A suitable reward will be paid for its return to Col. Carr's Headquarters.

GOV. GRAHAM'S ADDRESS.—The Memorial Address of the Hon. William A. Graham will be delivered on to-morrow, (Thursday,) at 11 o'clock A. M., at the Commons Hall, which the public are respectfully invited to attend, without further notice.

It is hoped that business will be generally suspended, so that all may have opportunity to show their respect to the memory of our late distinguished fellow-citizen.

THE CONCERT NEXT WEEK.—The rehearsals for the grand musical festival in this City, in furtherance of the objects of the Ladies' Memorial Association, are progressing, and the Concert, we learn, will take place the early part of next week, when the public may expect an uncommon treat. Speaking of Mr. Wheat, the Charlotte Times says: "We look upon him as one of the best performers of the age. His rendition of Dixie, with his beautiful variations, is enough—more than enough, to compensate for the small price of admission."

"THE LAND WE LOVE."—We are in receipt of the July number of Gen. Hill's admirable magazine. We have only had time to give its contents a cursory inspection, but they appear to be unusually entertaining. The first article,—a poetical contribution from the gifted pen of Mrs. Downing,—is a gem, and the succeeding essays, sketches and tales are of the first order of literary merit and intrinsic interest. We may notice this number more fully hereafter.

MR. BRYANT'S LECTURE.—We are pleased to chronicle the arrival of Mr. S. S. Bryant, of Danville, in this City. He will deliver his interesting, unique and eloquent Lecture on "the Devil" to-morrow evening, as heretofore announced. The place and hour will be designated by hand-bills and in our next issue.

N. C. MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.—We have heretofore inadvertently omited to mention that, at a meeting of this Company, at their office in this City, on the 2nd. inst., the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year, viz: Dr. Chas. E. Johnson, Kemp. P. Battle, Q. Busbee, John G. Williams, H. W. Husted, C. B. Root, Dr. W. H. McKee Peter M. Hale, W. H. Jones, J. M. Towles, E. Hall, Dr. Wm. Miller and R. H. Battle.

Dr. Chas. E. Johnson was re-elected President, and R. H. Battle, Secretary.

IREDELL CO.—A public meeting of the citizens of Iredell was held in Statesville, on Saturday last, for the purpose of appointing delegates to a District Convention. The Hon. Anderson Mitchell presided, and addressed the meeting ably and at length.

CRAVEN CO.—A meeting favorable to the Philadelphia Convention was held in Newbern on Monday. F. P. Latham, Esq., presided, and the Hon. C. O. Clark addressed the meeting.—Delegates were appointed to a District Convention.

DECORATION OF GRAVES.—The ladies of Wilmington have set apart Saturday, the 21st. inst., for the decoration of the graves of Confederate soldiers buried in Oakdale cemetery.

WARREN WHITE SULPHUR MINERAL SPRING.—We are glad to learn that this delightful watering place, under the management of Maj. Hope, is daily receiving visitors, and the prospect is that its extensive accommodations will soon be filled. The delightfulness of the place, the excellency of the water, and the desire of the proprietor to please, make it a most desirable summer resort.

In connection with the Springs, we learn an interesting incident. During the war, a daughter of Gen. Robt. E. Lee died and was buried there. Recently, the citizens of Warren, and perhaps others, have determined to erect a memorial or monument over her grave, and the 8th. of August has been fixed upon as the day for its completion. We learn that J. Barron Hope, Esq., of the Norfolk press, has been selected to deliver an original poem on the occasion. That honored man, Gen. R. E. Lee and his family, have been invited to be present on the interesting occasion, and it is expected that he will be at the Springs at that time.

IT WILL BE REMEMBERED that the annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Chatham Railroad Company takes place in this City tomorrow.

General Lee, in reply to the invitation of a Kentucky friend to visit that State, has written a letter declining the invitation, on the ground that his parole restricts him to the State of Virginia.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

General Grant and the War Office.

A story gains currency in political circles here to the effect that General Grant has been approached in regard to the anticipated vacancy in the War Office, and that he has expressed his sympathy with the policy of the Administration, and perfect readiness to assist in carrying that policy out. There is scarcely a doubt that, should Stanton withdraw, Grant will be directed to assume the duties of the office ad interim, with the full powers and privileges of an authorized secretary. I would also add that he would be pleased at the opportunity of doing so, and at the present moment has no higher ambition.—New York Herald,

An incredible rumor. We can't beleive it.

RADICAL SCHEME.

It is settled by the radical caucus that Congress shall adjourn on the 23d. instant, to-morrow week. No measures have been adopted, though the schemes have been suggested, for depriving the President of his powers of removal and appointment, though it is expected, on all sides, that immediately after the adjournment a sweeping reform in public offices will be commenced. The scheme for restraining the President by law was ingenious, but failed, like the plan the rats had for belling the cat. Who is to bell the cat in this case? It would require a two-thirds vote of each House, and that cannot be obtained.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE SENATE.

The President has two cabinet nominations to make, and before the end of the week will probably have two more. Besides this, he has a number of very important nominations of civil and diplomatic officers to send to the Senate.—It is, therefore, a question for consideration whether he will call the Senate to meet at 12 M., on the 23d, to consider these nominations. If he calls the Senate in special session for that purpose, that body may hold on nominally till the next regular session, and thus prevent the President from making any appointments. The President may call the Senate and throw upon them the responsibility of obstructing the wheels of the government by rejecting all nominations, or he may decline to call them, and proceed to make vacancies and fill them.

The Cabinet.

The Washington Republican, of yesterday, says that up to Sunday evening the President had not received the letters of resignation which Messrs. Speed and Harlan were reported to have sent in, but intimates that he would be very happy to do so.

Mr. Speed publishes in yesterday's Chronicle a long and elaborate attack on the Philadelphia Convention.

General Dix Writes a Letter in Favor of the Philadelphia Convention.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Major General Dix, of New York, a leader in the Republican ranks during the war, has written a letter to Senator Doolittle, concurring in the proposition and reasonings of the call for the National Convention at Philadelphia, and approving the objects proposed to be accomplished. He states that he will do all that lies in his power to carry out the objects of the Convention.

The National Convention.

Wisconsin has taken the lead in the Northwest in the call for a State Convention, to be held at Madison, on the 1st August, to appoint delegates to the Philadelphia Convention.—Illinois is the next to make a call for a meeting to be held at Springfield on yesterday evening, preparatory to making a general call for a State Convention. In the whole Northwest the people are responding to this call of liberty and patriotism in a praiseworthy spirit.

INDIANA.

Arrangements are being made to have Indiana fully represented in the National Union Convention, which meets in Philadelphia on the 14th August.

CONNECTICUT.

The Conservative Republicans of Connecticut have called a State Convention to meet at New Haven on the 1st of August; the Convention will appoint delegates to the Philadelphia Convention.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 15.

The State prisoner confined here is not suffering much from heat, at least during the day time. Mr. Davis spends the hours between "reveille" to "retreat" at the casemates, wherein reside his family, which are noted for coolness.

In the shade of the morning and evening, he takes his usual walk around the fort, or on the ramparts; and every day, without exception, he has visitors, with whom he passes the heated hours at casemates Nos. 7 and 8, second front. As far as meals are concerned, he now has decent food; he may be frequently seen with cigar in his mouth a la Grant.

Jefferson Davis, while he is a prisoner, and subject to the stern discipline of military rules, maintains a high dignity of manners. He does not allow any approach of idle curiosity seekers, but his old friends who come to see him are treated with the utmost courtesy by himself and lady. Mr. G. W. Brown, one of his counsellors, associates with Charles O'Conor, James T. Brady, &c., in his trial (if it ever comes off), and Burton Harrison, his late private secretary, called on him on Saturday and spent the day in the fort. They left again by the Baltimore boat that evening.

The following is the conclusion of an epitaph on a tombstone in East Tennessee: "She lived in a life of virtue and died of the cholera morbus, caused by eating green fruit in the full hope of a blessed immortality, at the early age of 21 years, 7 months and 16 days. Reader, go thou and do likewise."

The most remarkable wedding anniversary on record has just been celebrated at Olmutz, Bavaria. A landed proprietor of that place gave a fete in honor of his golden wedding, and the united ages of husband and wife amounted to two hundred years. He was one hundred and three and she ninety-seven, and they were married in 1791.

Generals S. Steadman and B. Fullerton left Galveston on Saturday for New Orleans. They have visited portions of the interior, and express satisfaction.

In Philadelphia, on Monday, a black woman was arrested for having horribly burned a black child, five years of age, by sitting it on a hot stove.

Stewart, of New York, is estimated to be worth $50,000,000.

John B. Gough, the temperance lecturer, returns an income of $12,982

Radicalism in Tennessee—Gen. Thomas and Brownlow Rebuked.

WASHINGTON, July 17., P. M.

The following despatch was received to-day from Maj. Gen. Thomas:

"Nashville, Tenn., July 15.—TO LIEUT. GEN. GRANT:—Some of the members of the House of Representatives of the Tennessee General Assembly conduct themselves in a very refractory manner, absenting themselves to prevent a quorum,—thus obstructing business. The Governor cannot manage them with the means at his disposal and has applied to me for military assistance. Shall I furnish it?

(Signed) GEO. H. THOMAS, Maj Gen."

The following answer was immediately returned:

"Washington, July 17.—Gen. Grant will instruct Gen. Thomas that the facts stated in his telegram do not warrant the interference of the military authorities. The administration of the laws and the preservation of peace in Nashville belong to the State authorities, and the duty of the U. S. forces is not to interfere in any way in the controversy between political parties in the State. Gen. Thomas will strictly abstain from any such interference. Signed,

E. M. STANTON, Sec'y of War."

Appointment of Special Commissioner of Revenue.

WASHINGTON, July 17, P. M.

The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed to the new office of Special Commissioner of Revenue, David A. Wells, now Chairman of the U. S. Revenue Commissioners. The office was created by Congress with the express understanding that he was to be appointed. This is the first instance where a civil office has been created for a particular individual.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 17, P. M.

HOUSE.—Six hours were consumed in the consideration of the Rousseau-Grinnell case. The resolution to expel Rousseau was defeated: yeas 72, nays 49,—not two-thirds. A resolution then passed that Rousseau be summoned to the bar of the House to be censured by the Speaker.

The three gentlemen, who were in company with Rousseau, when he committed the assault, were declared guilty of a violation of privilege and are to be brought to the bar of the House.

The resolution of the Select committee, disapproving of Grinnell's gross language in debate, was laid on the table.

SENATE.—The bill to revive the grade of General was amended and passed.

The Heated Term.

NEW YORK, July 17., P. M.

The weather here, and in the principal Northern cities, is torrid. The mercury, to-day, marked 96; yesterday 98, and was the hottest day known in New York for ten years. There were 25 cases of sun-stroke and 13 fatal. There were seven cases of cholera, and four in Brooklyn.

There were a number of deaths from sun-stroke in Baltimore and here.

The Tennessee Legislature.

NASHVILLE, July 17.

There was no quorum in the House on yesterday,—fifty members being present.

Mr. Williams, from Carter county, was arrested by the Sergeant-at-arms and brought to the House, and is held in close custody.

Judge Williams issued a writ of habeas corpus in favor of Williams.

A resolution was passed, authorizing the arrest of seven other refractory members.

Prussia and Italy had conditionally accepted the proposed armistice,—Prussia retaining her present military position, to be supported by the countries occupied; Austria not to increase her army in the field; and Italy to occupy one fortress in the Quadilateral. Italy, in reply, demanded two fortresses.

A Vienna telegram reports a good prospect of an armistice for six weeks.

The Austrians continued to retreat without molestation.

The Prussians had advanced further into Bohemia.

The Prussians had gained another victory, defeating the Bavarians at Dirmback. The people of Italy and Prussia are said to be strongly opposed to an armistice, desiring terms to be dictated to Austria at Vienna.

DIED,

At the residence of his son, General Matt. W. Ransom, in Northampton County, N. C., on the 13th. day of July, 1866, ROBERT RANSOM, Esq., a native of Warren County, who was born on the 26th. of January, 1793. The deceased was a man of many amiable and estimable qualities. Towards his native State, North Carolina, and his native county, he entertained ardent feelings of affection, and when compelled by the vicissitudes of life to separate himself from them, and to take up his abode in a distant State, as he sometimes had to do, he could truly say, in reference to his early home, "My heart, untravelled, ever turns to thee," and wherever he might dwell, he desired and expected, when his earthly career should terminate, to sleep in the bosom of that land which gave him birth.—He was a kind and obliging neighbor and a warm friend. As a son, he was in a high degree dutiful and exemplary in his conduct towards his excellent parents, during their lives, and after they sank into the grave, he always cherished their memories with a degree of respect and veneration that has been rarely surpassed. Filial piety, in its most engaging form, was strongly developed in his character. He was a tender husband, and exceedinly devoted in his attachment. As a father he was most kind and affectionate; and ever manifested the deepest interest in the welfare and happiness of his children, and realized more gratification from their success in the world than they did themselves. Well was he paid for his parental fondness and care by the comfort which they afforded to his declining years, and the lustre which they have shed around his name.

His remains, according to his own request, were interred by the side of his deceased wife, and in the midst of his nearest departed kindred, in a beautiful rural cemetery, on a tract of land which was for a long time the homestead of the Ransom family, about four miles southwest from Warrenton; a spot shaded by oaks and cedars, and adorned with ivy which has carpeted with verdure the whole burial ground, and twined itself in green wreaths around the stone enclosure; a spot peculiarly quiet, retired and lovely, admirably appropriate as the last resting place of the dead, and where the evening sun will shine sweetly over the graves of the departed.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

IS a concentrated extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this Sarsaparilla, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood and are often soon cured by this Extract of Sarsaparilla.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used Ayer's—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by
